The club does this by building lifelong friendships throughout the school and forming friendships with other students who they may not always cross paths with. Walpole hosts 300th anniversary parade

The parade traveled through Walpole, spanning two hours

By Nora O'Connor
Staff Writer

Exactly 300 years ago in 1724, Walpole became its own town. To celebrate this milestone, Walpole has been commemorating its 300th anniversary throughout the whole year. On Saturday, Oct. 5 the Walpole 300th Anniversary Committee put together and hosted the 300th anniversary parade. Over 8,000 people gathered around Main Street to celebrate Walpole's tricentennial anniversary.

The parade started at the Norfolk Agricultural High School, then continued down Main Street, ending at Walpole High School. The route spanned two and a half miles and took about three hours, starting at 11 a.m. and closing at 2 p.m. While there was light rain on the morning of the parade, the weather cleared up and the sun came out in time for the parade to start.

The parade was led by Walpole police officers and was followed by over 100 floats, different types of cars and marching bands. Law enforcement officers from Norfolk County Sheriff's Department, Massachusetts State Police and Walpole Police Department all took part in the parade. Even the Massachusetts National Guard and Honor Guard were in the procession. There were multiple animals in the parade, including horses from multiple different organizations, such as the State Police and the Aggie and even service dogs from Golden Opportunities for Independence were featured in the parade.

Some floats served as advertisements for local businesses, such as Delany and Sons Funeral Home, Walpole Community Food Pantry, Brennan Tree and Landscaping and the Walpole Pharmacy. Other floats were sponsored by local churches, including the Epiphany church and the South Walpole Methodist church and schools, like Blessed Sacrament School and the Norfolk Aggie School. There were several different marching bands, like the Walpham American Legion band, the McGann marching band and the North Star Alumni Drum and Bugle Corps. The parade featured various vintage and modern cars driven by volunteers. The procession was closed by Walpole Firefighters in fire trucks.

Additionally, there are many upcoming events celebrating the 300th anniversary events. Some include a fall festival on Oct. 26 in the town green. A gala at Lake Pearl in Wrentham on Nov. 2. There is also a Light Up the Town Luminary event being held on Dec. 10. For additional information about these events, visit Walpole 300.com.

Walpole introduces merged middle school

After months of construction, WMS is opened for the 24-25 school year

By: Molly Diggin &
Naya Karzoun
Staff Writers

After being in construction since fall of 2022, the new Walpole Middle School has opened up for the 2024-2025 school year. Completed at the end of August just in time for the start of the school year, the building combines the two former middle schools, Bird Middle School and Eleanor N. Johnson Middle School. The opening of the school building is the culmination of months of construction as well as efforts by each of the individual middle schools to transition into one joint school.

"It's like a blended family where we are starting to come together and it's just taking some time," art teacher Madison Langwell said.

The school is divided into two wings, with the seventh graders are on the bottom. Additionally, the school has wings divided by color rather than subject wings. Each student is assigned a color and they are expected to stay in that area for their classes.

"Each level has a different color that corresponds to each class so you don't have to travel a lot unless you're going to a special," seventh grade student Georgie Barry said.

Although the students are unable to see friends from other colors, they still find ways to hangout during the school day through specials like gym, art, health, music and the opportunity to have lunch together.

Teachers and students are in the process of adjusting to their new work and learning environment, as the staff members and students are working together in the same building for the first time.

Seventh grade history teacher Goldman's desk in her classroom.

er Jennifer Morrell said. "We all came from different places."

One aspect of the new building that the school community appreciates is the large windows that bring a lot of natural light into the school. These windows help make the space feel brighter and also give people a pleasant view of the surrounding neighborhood.

"Being able to see outside man said. "In 19 years I could never see outside my windows."

Their biggest improvements are safety and security. In every classroom and office, there are automatic locking doors that can only open on the inside, or when a keycard is used. They also have cameras all around the school protecting the students and making

The Searchlight, run by Ms. Ferguson, creates and distributes the school newspaper, with the help from 35 student staff members. They had a field trip to Boston Public Library where they researched the history and designed informational pamphlets for the building. This gave students an opportunity to express their voices while building confidence as writers. Over the course of the year the club publishes four newspapers and frequently updates the website with opinion, sports, lifestyle, feature, and entertainment articles.

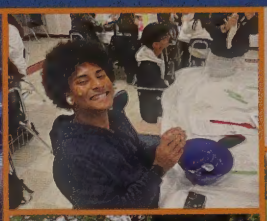
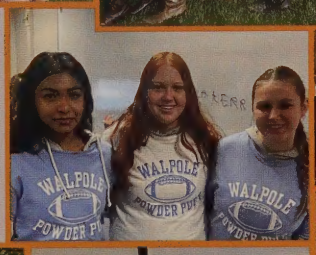
STUDENT LIFE CANDIDS



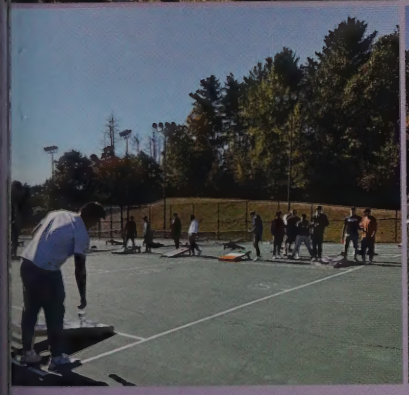


Senior Sunrise

The Senior Sunrise happens at the beginning of fall. All of the graduating seniors meet in the morning to enjoy a sunrise together. The seniors get to spend time with each other as a whole class and start their senior year off together.

This year was not the best weather and it was too cloudy to be able to see the sunrise. Still, the seniors were had fun.

CORNHOLE TOURNAMENT

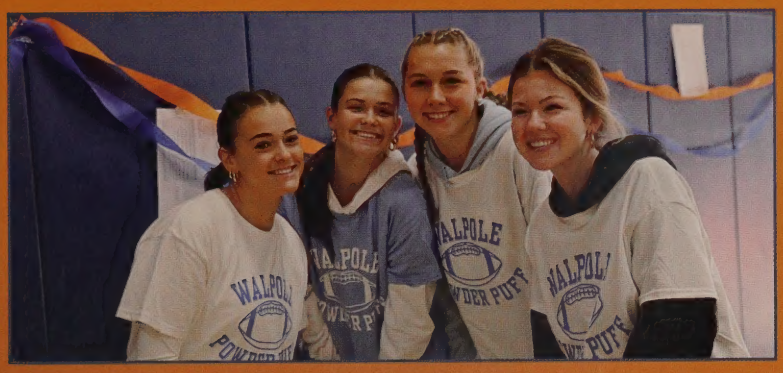


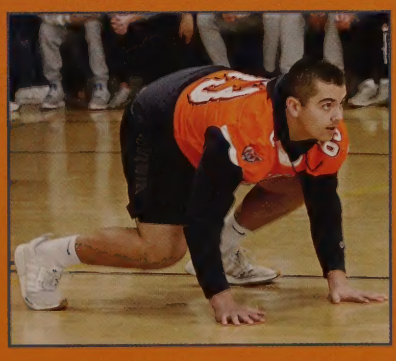
This year's fourth annual, Cornhole Tournament was hosted by Student Council on October 11, 2024. Members Brayden Mattera and Will McGrath gathered people to help and put this event together. 87 teams participated to compete. They raised over $900 to be donated to the Jimmy Fund. In the end, seniors Sam Miles and Quinn MacNeil were the winners.

PEP RALLY

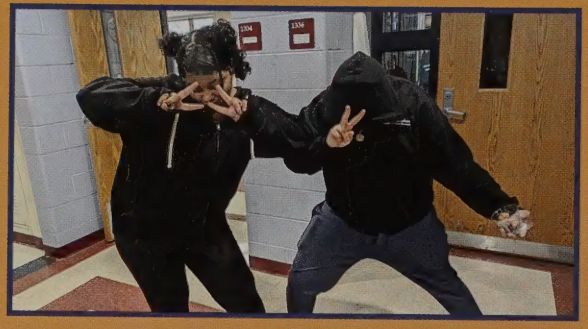
The Pep Rally is always a fun event that takes place on Timberwolf Wednesday. All four grades are able to get together and have fun in a friendly competition. This year there were many different events. There was a dodgeball game between the grades, and the seniors were the winners! Some students signed up for a money grab where they were blindfolded and crawled to search for the money. Also there was a mattress relay: students ran and jumped onto blow-up pool floats and raced to the finish line. Another relay that happened was a 3-legged race, which required good teamwork. Next, eight hungry students competed in a pie eating contest. Finally, there were two very competitive games of musical chairs: one with students and one with teachers.

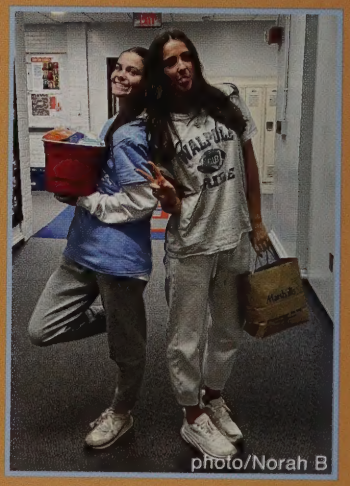
2024





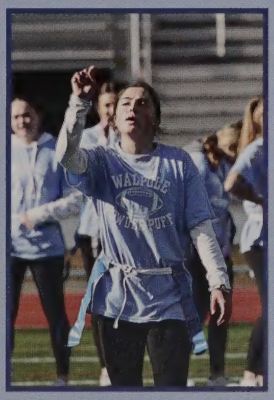
Timberwolf Wednesday



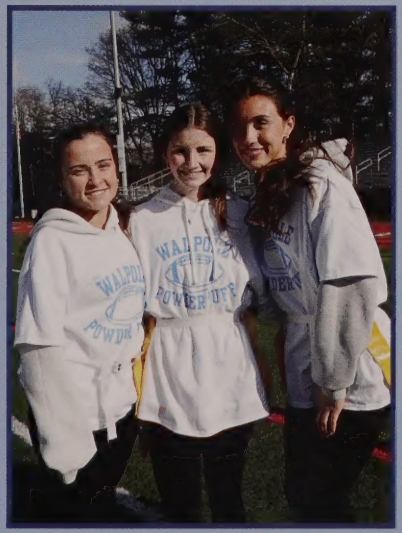


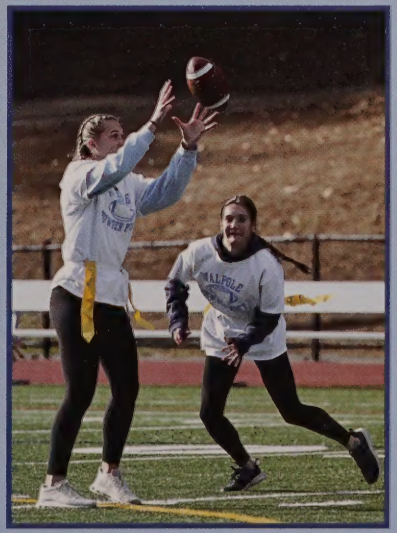
As of 2018, the annual Timberwolf Wednesday has brought WHS together for fun activities before Thanksgiving break. The day consists of 3 one hour sessions that students choose for themselves ranging from slime and a movie to robotics. This year, many people participated to make an unforgettable last day before break.

Powder Puff



Powder Puff has been a tradition at WHS for decades. The day before Thanksgiving break, Senior and Junior girls come together to play a friendly game of flag football. At times the game becomes very competitive but controlled. This year the seniors were very determined to achieve the win. They worked hard, and it was a close game, but seniors ended the game with a win.

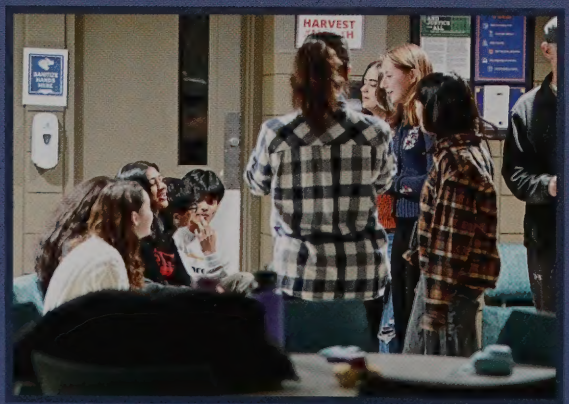




ONCE UPON A MATTRESS

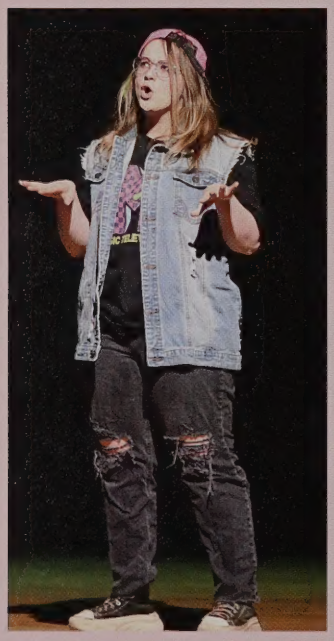
The talented cast and crew of WHS Drama did wonders constructing this year's Fall Musical production of Once Upon A Mattress. Rehearsals were held daily after school for 2-4 hours over a span of 3 months.The show consists of 30 cast & crew members and their pit orchestra! WHS Drama presented a romantic comedy where townspeople in the kingdom are unable to marry until the prince marries a princess.

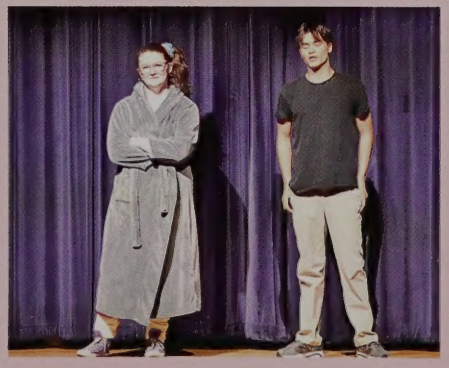
Fall Coffee House



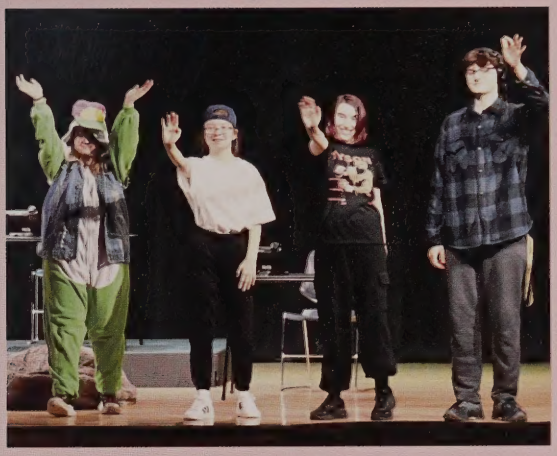
The Fall Coffee House, run by Ms. Nutting, is an event that is dedicated to celebrate music and musicians within Walpole High School, whether they are students or staff. The cafeteria is decorated nicely with concessions and home baked goods. Those profits from the sales also help to make events like these in the future. The students and staff that participate get to bond with other students who share similar interests.

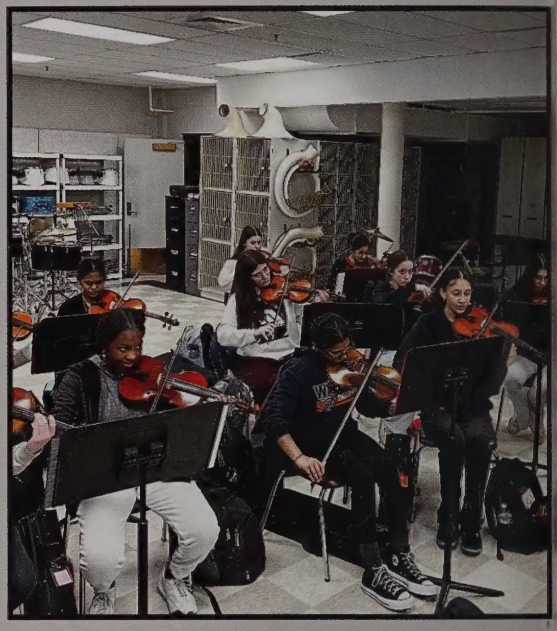
This year's spring play was The Story of Me, Mario, and Your Mom. The story takes place in 1989; it is a conversation between counselors at a hot line for Nintendo video games and the callers who need help. It is a light hearted and fun play. The play took place at the Massachusetts Educational Theatre Guild's annual High School Drama Competition, with eighty-eight other schools. The cast and crew's dedication to the play, and we hope their hard work paid off.





Spring play





Winter Concert

Every year the Jazz Band, Chorus, Percussion Ensemble, Orchestra, and Concert Band meet up and put on an impressive performance the week before winter break. This year's concert featured songs from contemporary films and childhood memories. This gives student the opportunity to show off skills learned throughout the fall. Families and friends come to support the musicians and see the seniors perform for one of their last times.

Argentina and Chile Trip

Ms. Hugueley and Mrs. Cleary chaperoned the Chile and Argentina school trip where students got to experience different cultures. The students got to explore major cities, hike mountains, and even take a cooking class to learn the importance of culture in food. Some of the popular cities they visited were Buenos Aires, Argentina and Santiago, Chile. Their favorite food that they tried was an empanada, which in Chile they eat as a snack in between meals.

Sharlotte Stazinski

The Walpole High School Softball Team coached by Rachael Sprague and led by senior captains Caroline Doran, Sharlotte Stazinski, and Norah Broderick, came off of a historic season where they won their first D2 State Championship in school history. Their hard work and dedication has not stopped, and they hoped for another winning season. With the loss of two important seniors last year, the team worked to adjust and fill missing positions. Although the team started off the season with a few tough losses, they bounced back and expecting a long, successful season. Their drive, motivation, and team bonding allowed them to be successful and push each other to be the best they can be. The team ended the regular season with a record of 14-4 and advanced to the tournament as the 4th seed.

Quinn MacNeil

The Varsity Boys Baseball Team, led by senior captains Andrew Burke, Quinn MacNeil, Paul Whelan, Mikey St. Martin and head coach Chris Costello, started off the season ranked 3rd team in D2 and have remained a top 10 team in Globe state rankings. The captain's favorite part of their team was their teamwork. They describe how they alway have each other's backs: whether things go wrong and right, they uplift each other. They have had some obstacles: one being their "5 game slide" where they won their first 3 games and then lost 5 games in a row. St. Martin discusses the team's challenges and how they overcame them: "We weren't playing bad, we just weren't able to pull through on important moments. However, our senior leaders stepped up and helped us turn the season around, and now we are back on track." The team ended the season with a 15-3 record and advanced to the tournament as the 8th seed.

Coach Tosone quotes "The 11 field players, as a unit, are probably the fastest and the most athletic that we've ever had together." The team will graduate 8 seniors. The Varsity Boys Lacrosse Team, led by senior captains Brayden Mattera, Noah Mackenzie, Ryan Lania and head coach Greg Shea, started off the season well with a record of 12-2 only 5 weeks into the season. The captains favorite part of the team was the bond they created over the season through hanging out, fishing, or going on adventures together. They have had some setbacks with some injuries and getting late to games because of the buses. The boys have learned how to work and communicate as a team as they have preserved through their challenges and have had an amazing season. The Girls Track Team led by Coach Ganshirt and senior captains Katie Chamoun, Aideen Smith, Danielle Danna, Evelyn Ogbebor, Bhakti Belle, and Sienna Ddungu learned a lot together as a team. According to Coach Ganshirt, the team's unity helped them have success, even though other teams had double the amount of athletes, making it a difficult season for the team. Despite this, they are still able to put up a good fight and come 2 points within beating Natick, a competitive team, at one of their meets. Several athletes and two relay teams, the 4x400 and 4x800, moved on to the post season. At states Sophia Axelrod secured 1st place in discus, and the 4x800 team finished 3rd in their division. On their way to the games, the team enjoyed listening to music and playing games on the bus, getting everyone involved and excited. The Walpole Boys Tennis Team coached by head coach Shawn Gough worked extra hard this year to maintain their "powerhouse" standings. The team has been in the State Tournament 24 out of the last 25 seasons with an extraordinary record. The team captains, Shred Jadhav and Stephen Jung, worked hard to motivate each other to continue bringing the energy. The JV team watched how the Varsity kids play during the tough points and used it as a learning opportunity. This year, the second doubles pair of Ramu Muthukaruppan and Shred Jadhav won a game against Wellesley, one of their strongest competitors. Getting a win off of the team was a remarkable reward for their strength and adversity and helped them advance to the tournament as the 9th seed.

Dan Duggan

With this year being the second season for the Boys Volleyball team at Walpole High School, they have greatly improved from their debut 2023-2024 season. Head coach Zach Okolowitcz and senior captains Jack Conti, Aaron Levenson, and Dan Duggan all worked together to build a strong, present, and focused team. Because they only had 10 players, everyone needed to be accountable and ready to play. Coach Okolowitcz stated that "the players have been good with adjusting to change and trying new positions." After winning their first full set against Weymouth making it a tight game, the team saw that their hard work was beginning to pay off. The team hopes that their dedication will inspire future players to join and grow the program leaving a lasting legacy.

Girls Golf

Caroline Chase

Kaitlin Timilty

With Coach Vivian Kolovos, senior captains Caroline Chase, Kaitlin Timilty, and junior captain Victoria Adams, the Girls Golf Team had a competitive and challenging season. As Kolovos mentions, the team had "big shoes to fill this year" since they won their league last year and hope to do so again to build their success. The team has bonded through practices, team dinners, indoor golf in the winter, and putting or chipping contests; Adams believes connecting with teammates is important for matches because "you play with one girl from your team every match". Additionally, the girls help each other out with learning golf techniques and etiquette as there are a lot of new and eager to learn players. Girls Golf won The Division II South Sectional Championship and advanced to the State Tournament. Overall, the team worked together to gain a good record and beat opposing teams.

This year, students' effort and teamwork culminated at the Sectional meet. Students were able to compete in their events against students from the local towns. The students did an excellent job supporting one another during this event. According to Coach Ferraro his favorite part of the team is how they give him their best effort 100% of the team. The team is graduating five seniors this year: Rory Hegarty, Alexander Maher, Coleman Walsh, William Duggan & Ronan McAndrew.

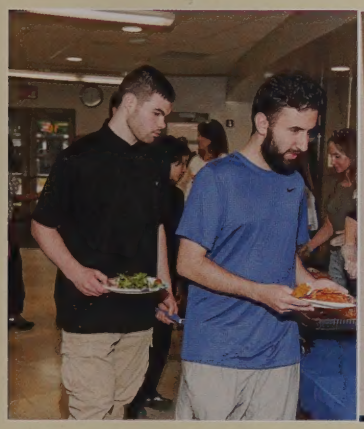
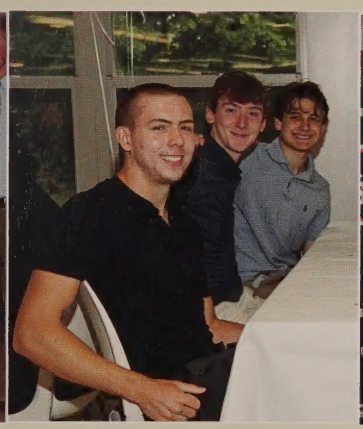
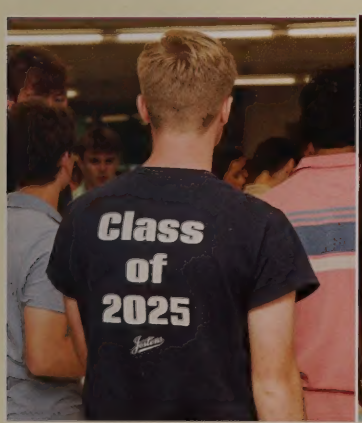
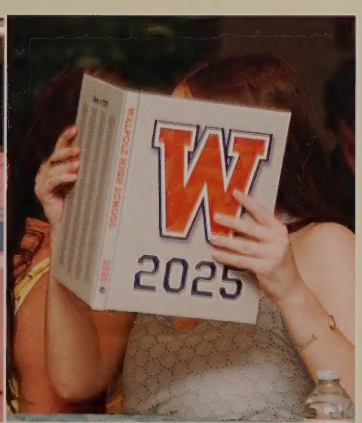
Senior Dinner







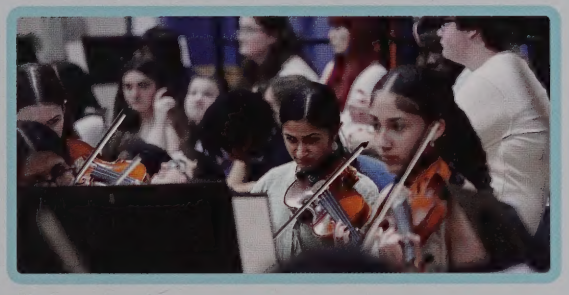


On May 28th, the week before Graduation, the seniors gathered in the cafeteria for one last night together. Over a shared meal, they celebrated friendships built and memories made. The seniors signed each other's yearbooks with heartfelt messages and watched a video montage of photos capturing their journey over the years, bringing smiles, laughs, and some tears to the seniors. With a selfie station set up to freeze these last moments in time. The night was a perfect send-off, marking not just an end but the beginning of everything that comes next.

National Honor Society Induction

On May 20th, current senior members of the National Honor Society led a procession wearing gowns and holding candles in the auditorium to celebrate the induction of junior members. The senior class of 57 members used this day to share with families and friends their service work that they have been working on throughout the course of the year and to honor a special educator. The night ended with the seniors each inducting a junior and congratulating them on becoming a member of the National Honors Society.

Pops Night



The WHS annual Pops Night on May 23rd in the gym was dance music themed this year. The fundraiser invites people to enjoy WHS student musicians play musical tunes while participating in raffles and food and drinks. The night is to honor and support the Michael Falker Scholarship Fund, which was built to continue the legacy of Michael Falker, a Walpole music teacher who believed all students should be able to pursue the art of music.

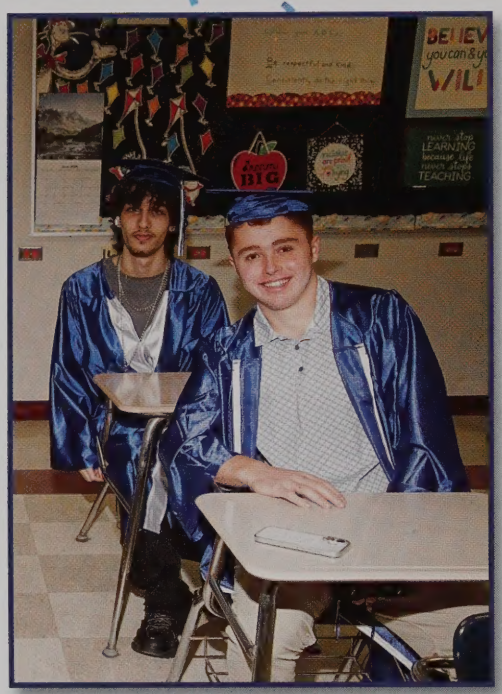
GRADUATION



Not everything about who we are can—or should—be labeled. We are more than "the smart one" or "the funny one". We are walking stories, still being written. We are messy, complicated, brilliant works in progress.
